London App Brewery

Founder

April 2015 - Present (10 years 1 month)

London, United Kingdom

The London App Brewery teaches busy people how to make web, iOS and Android apps.

On our course you create fully functional mobile applications from scratch. Through our hands on approach, you will learn the structure of a mobile app and its components, key programming design patterns, as well as debugging techniques so that you can easily expand on your knowledge and start working on your own apps with confidence.

Russell Investments

Implementation Portfolio Manager

January 2012 - April 2015 (3 years 4 months)

- Implemented portfolio restructurings and transition management events for both internal (Russell Funds) and external clients in EMEA with straight-through project management from initial client contact to post-trade report.
- Analysed portfolio attributes and exposures in order to design optimal trading strategies and apply risk management techniques, requiring a thorough understanding of risk-, optimisation-, and market impact models.
- Strengthened project management skills and worked under pressure in order to effectively manage portfolio restructurings, liaising closely with clients, the trading desk, custodians, legacy- and target-managers over the course of the transition.
- Demonstrated a high attention to detail in monitoring portfolio risk and corporate actions, in performance measurement and attribution, as well as in preventing trade errors.
- Determined transition objectives with the clients and worked to design and recommend new transition strategies or adjustments to existing strategies.

EIM (United Kingdom) Ltd

Jr. Research Analyst

May 2007 - June 2009 (2 years 2 months)

- Researched and evaluated potential investments using information gained through manager meetings, conferences, financial statements, and marketing materials, requiring a thorough understanding of hedge fund trading strategies.
- Monitored the fund of fund's allocation to 8-10 hedge funds whose investment profiles spanned Systematic Equity Arbitrage, discretionary Global Macro Trading, and Emerging Markets Long-Short Equity.
- Continuously tracked portfolio changes, risk profile, and manager outlook to communicate these cogently via reports and conference calls to the portfolio management teams and recommend redeeming funds in breach of EIM's investment thesis.
- Demonstrated initiative in joining the sourcing effort for new investments in the Statistical Arbitrage space, culminating in a thorough due diligence report and presentation to the investment committee.
